

Tanja Golden

Tanja Golden was previously employed at Al-Ihsan Academy as a pre-kindergarten educator in 1998. During her nineteen years of teaching, she created engaging academic lessons for children, served as a mentor and support system, tended to children's individual needs, and acquired numerous other skills within her profession. She has consistently instilled values in her students, encouraging them to respect the rights of others and to live in a manner that contributes to the betterment of society. Thus, she remained consistent in contributing time to volunteer work within her community in Queens, New York. Tanja was an active volunteer member of school events and fundraisers, religious institutional events, and senior citizen programs.

Currently, Tanja Golden is retired and resides in Central Florida. She is a volunteer member at the Lowell Correctional Facility in Ocala, Florida, in which she educates inmates on moral character and Islamic values. She encourages inmates to develop a reformed and positive self-outlook alongside Islamic knowledge.
